Personal Emergency Response Systems

Land Line Units—The simple plug in installation will not interfere with existing equipment on the phone line system. The system covers a 600 ft. to 800 ft. radius from the base unit.

Cellular Units—Requires no land line or existing cell phone account. The unit requires only an electrical outlet. The system covers a 600 ft. to 800 ft. radius from the base unit.

GPS Units—This system is ideal for the person on the go or for a person who requires location monitoring. A press of the button establishes two way voice communication. The unit can be located to within three feet anywhere in the United States. Travel limits can be set to notify the monitoring center whenever they are crossed.

These units are available to our clients for a low cost monthly rental fee. There are no long term contracts only month to month rentals. For clients, a second person can be added to a system for free. Secure online health care data storage is available at no cost when renting the system.
